

From: Broad Ripple Village Association
To: Carlson, Chris; roettger@iquest.net; bungalowgal47@sbcglobal.net; alan@broadripplegazette.com; kblackha@indy.gov
Subject: Harry Claffey and Don Claffey
Date: Thursday, May 13, 2010 1:03:09 AM
Attachments: Claffey\_Descendants\_of\_Johann\_Butsch.pdf

---

Hey, all,

Everybody always seems to get a good chuckle whenever I say I am related to someone who's just been mentioned. Just in case anyone doubted that Harry Claffey was actually my relative, I thought I'd provide a small section of my family tree database showing his Butsch descendancy. Also, for those who said they knew Don Claffey, Don is Harry's son.

I could find no reference to the Claffeys in this line as having been in the grocery business. However, I did find that all of the Claffeys in Indianapolis appear to be related. The immigrant Claffey came to Indianapolis from Germany about 1850 and had at least nine children, most of whom were boys.

I'll keep digging for the name of the Claffey who had the store at 6055 N. College Avenue.

Sharon

Sharon Butsch Freeland
Executive Director

Broad Ripple Village Association
6311 Westfield Boulevard, Suite 101
Indianapolis, IN 46220-1789
317.251.2782 office
317.251.1322 fax
sharon.b.freeland@mybroadripple.com
www.DiscoverBroadRippleVillage.com/